

Layout of a Course Page

Although the content of each course will differ, a course page has certain common elements.

- Left Column (Course Outline): A vertical list of course items. The current section, "Week 1, May 5-9, Old Testament Backgrounds", is highlighted in blue. Other items include "2025 Syllabus Introduction to...", "Welcome", "Why Include Geography?", "Map Quiz 1", "Forum: Introduce Yourself", "Week 2, May 10-16, The Pen...", "Week 2 Reflection", "Bible Lands", "Week 3, May 17-23, The Pen...", "Reflection Essay Week 3", "Forum Week 3", "Deuteronomy Video Art", "Week 4, May 24-30, Historic...", "Week 4 Reflection Essay Assign...", "Week 5, May 31 - June 6, Po...", "Week 5 Reflection Essay Poetry...", "Forum Week 5 Poetry Wisdom", "Week 6, June 7-13, Major Pr...", "Book of Isaiah Video Art Part 1", "Book of Isaiah Video Art Part 2", and "Isaiah-The Suffering Servant Jo..."
- Central Column (Main Content): Displays the content for the selected section, "Week 1, May 5-9, Old Testament Backgrounds". It includes a breadcrumb trail "BS615 2025 Online Fudge 2993 / Week 1, May 5-9, Old Testament Backgrounds", a title "Week 1, May 5-9, Old Testament Backgrounds", a sub-header "Old Testament Backgrounds", a unit goal, a list of learning objectives, assignment details for May 9, a "Why Include Geography?" section with a paragraph, and a list of activities at the bottom: "Map Quiz 1" and "Forum: Introduce Yourself", both marked as "Completed".
- Right Column (Additional Resources): Contains several sections: "TCM Library" with a search bar and links to "Library Website", "Library Catalog", and "Library Help"; "Student Support" with links to "Technology Help", "Library Help", and "Student Support"; "Research and Writing" with links to "Research & Writing Handbook" and "Library Catalog"; "Evaluations" with a "Course Evaluation" button; and "Activities" with links to "Assignments", "Forums", "Quizzes", and "Resources".

The column on the left contains an outline of the course, including all items and activities. If you click on a bolded heading, you will go to a section, if you click on a regular item, you will go directly to that item.

The main column, in the middle, contains all the items in the course. If you clicked on a section heading, you will see only this section. This is the main area where you work on the course. Click on the name of any items to see the details. To read more about different types of activities that you can find here, read the Types of Activities guide.

The column on the right contains extra items, not directly related to the course, such as library links or guides.
